

New Catalog now available

New Catalog now available
May 28, 2019

The Office of the University Registrar and the Next Generation Student Systems (NGSS) project are proud to announce the release of the 2019-2020 University Catalog for the University of Pennsylvania. This new edition of the University Catalog will serve as a single source of information about all academic programs at Penn, including undergraduate, graduate, professional, and certificate programs for academic credit, as well as courses at all levels of study. The Catalog also includes important academic policies and resources.

Presented in a mobile-friendly display, the Catalog offers prospective and current students, as well as other members of the Penn community and the general public, information about academic opportunities and degree programs at Penn.

This new edition of the Catalog features the addition of professional programs, certificate programs for academic credit, an advanced program search, and the Faculty Handbook.

Many people contributed enormous time and effort to this phase of the project. We would like to thank the core team, including staff members from the Office of the University Registrar, Office of the Provost, and the NGSS project. We are also grateful to our partners in the schools and central offices across campus who worked collaboratively to launch this edition of the Catalog.

The University Catalog can be found at <https://catalog.upenn.edu>.

We welcome your thoughts and feedback about the Catalog at catalog@lists.upenn.edu.

- Jeanne Curtis | Executive Director of Application & Information Services
- David Ishmael | Executive Director of Financial Systems & Training
- Rob Nelson | Executive Director for Academic & Technology Planning
- Matt Sessa | Executive Director of Student Registration & Financial Services